MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Subject: Highlights of Treasury Activities

Most of my time is being directed to:

- (1) Guiding the EPG in formulating a refined anti-inflation program;
- (2) Working on the tax bill;
- (3) Continuing to monitor and deal with the dollar program;
- (4) Pushing to achieve prompt action on the Witteveen Facility;
- (5) Preparing for the upcoming IMF-World Bank meetings.

1. EPG and ANTI-INFLATION

The EPG has met twice this week to continue consideration of a reformulated anti-inflation program. We will meet again Monday and plan to forward to you our final recommendations Tuesday night. There is unanimity in the EPG on the urgent need for action and on the importance of developing a program that has teeth. Whatever we do has political risks as well as benefits; the risks of not acting forcefully are even greater. This matter will require your urgent attention after you return from Camp David. You are facing major decisions not only on the substance of a reinforced anti-inflation program but also on the timing of its implementation.

2. TAXES

The Senate Finance Committee has begun mark-up on the tax bill and I am spending a lot of time with Senator Long. Things look better than expected. I am forwarding a separate report on this matter.

3. DOLLAR

The foreign exchange market remains nervous and unstable -- subject to the impact of good or bad news. In the last few days the dollar has appreciated gradually. The market remains cautious amidst uncertainties concerning possible further measures to strengthen the dollar, energy legislation and the Camp David meetings. The defeat of the Dole amendment and the announcement of a 0.1% decline in Producer Prices (WPI) for August combined to give the dollar a boost. Growing expectations of a toughened anti-inflation program are contributing to further dollar strength. Apparently there has been a slight shift in market psychology away from concentrating only on bad news to at least considering the good, though the momentum is not yet on our side. We will have to come forward with a viable anti-inflation package and stave off a defeat on natural gas to maintain this improved tone and prevent further disruption.

4. WITTEVEEN FACILITY

I am concerned that failure to achieve prompt authorization and appropriation for the Witteveen Facility will badly damage our leadership role in the IMF community. We have moved slowly on a quota expansion for the Fund on the basis that we could not afford to jeopardize the Witteveen Facility by asking Congress to consider the quota issue; failing to deliver on either initiative has generated considerable ill-will which I expect will manifest itself at the upcoming Bank/Fund meetings. I will be working with the Speaker and Chairman Mahon to expedite the legislation and may be asking you to personally intervene.

5. IBRD/IMF ANNUAL MEETING

The Bank/Fund meetings start on September 25. The world's finance ministers and central bank governors will be here and the attention of the international community will be focused on Washington. Developments in the anti-inflation and energy areas will be watched closely; positive action on either of these fronts will add greatly to the success of the meetings.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

From: Ambassador Robert S. Strauss,

Subject: Weekly Summary

Minister Ushiba and Agricultural Minister Nakagawa have been in town this week and we have engaged in agricultural negotiations. They also spent time with Talmadge and Foley and their respective agricultural committees. The negotiations were reasonably productive but failed to achieve our goals. We will meet again in a few weeks.

While the dollar items involved are limited in terms of our nation's trade, beef, citrus, pork, poultry, wine and a number of specialty crops are of very great importance to the producers involved, and therefore, of serious political significance. In my judgment, we must achieve certain minimums or we will not be able to secure the agricultural support necessary to get the MTN Agreement through Congress next year.

I expect to achieve the goals we have set, and obtain that objective.

REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Douglas M. Costle

In my August 4 report, I described the struggle the Agency was having with the State of Ohio. I am pleased to tell you that the policy of firmness which you endorsed is beginning to produce results.

In a series of non-publicized meetings on their water pollution control program, we told top state officials that we were withholding $700,000 in federal grant funds and would withdraw the state's delegated permitting authority unless they made some fundamental improvements in their implementation of the program. As a result, the state finally--after two years of defiance--agreed to the following changes:

- o They will increase the resources devoted to the program by 37 percent.
- o They will undertake a vigorous enforcement effort in accordance with federal and state laws.
- o They will focus their permit program on controlling toxic pollutants.

Several citizen lawsuits against the state are still outstanding, but I believe the agreement will be instrumental in settling them.

SUBJECT: Weekly Report of Significant Agency Activities
(September 5-8, 1978)

CSA Reauthorization

Formal conference on CSA's reauthorization has been scheduled for Thursday, September 14, 1978, at 3:00 p.m. An agreement is expected to be reached during this first meeting.

National Demonstration Water Project

CSA agreed this week to extend its current grant to the National Demonstration Water Project (NDWP) from September 30, 1978, to December 31, 1978. In addition, CSA has agreed that any funds provided this year by the Farmers' Home Administration will be funneled through the CSA-NDWP grant relationship and directed toward those activities necessary to prepare for increased funding scheduled to begin October 1, 1978. NDWP, a CSA demonstration project for seven years, funds a number of affiliate programs which assist in bringing adequate water and sewage services to rural low-income communities.

Energy Economic Development Grants

CSA has awarded grants totaling $1 million to five grantees to demonstrate the feasibility of community enterprise designed to create permanent new jobs for the disadvantaged while saving energy and/or reducing energy costs. The planned community enterprises include the manufacture and sale of wood-burning stoves, solar hot water heaters, solar-cured cement products and cellulose insulation.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Charlie Schultze CS
SUBJECT: CEA Weekly Report

Anti-Inflation Policy. My staff has been working closely with CWPS and other agencies to develop final recommendations to you on further anti-inflation measures. A decision memo should be forwarded to you next week. CWPS is beginning to work on the administrative apparatus and public-information materials that must be available at the time the program is announced. Thus, if you decide to approve the program and announce it very shortly, we should be ready. My staff also is working with Anne Wexler to arrange Congressional and public consultations on the program.

On Thursday, Marshall, Strauss, Butler, Bosworth and I briefed George Meany and a number of ALF-CIO union heads, and Doug Fraser (separately), in very general terms about the inflation problems and the range of options available to deal with it. While the AFL-CIO meeting was polite, Meany was not at all receptive. In effect, he said: (i) wages are not an inflationary factor in the economy; (ii) interest rates are the chief culprit. He spend a good bit of time chastising us about the 5-1/2 percent Federal pay cap. Fraser and his people, on the other hand, were very cooperative, even though not in full agreement with us. They recognized our problems, while pointing out to us the difficulties a wage guideline would cause them. Monday we meet with the Teamsters.

EPA Regulations on "Scrubbers" for Power Plants. Stu, Jim Schlesinger and I met this week with Doug Costle to discuss the regulation on emissions from new steam-electric generating plants that EPA intends to propose next week. This will be a very important regulation with major economic, energy, and political implications. Stu, Jim, and I have been pressing EPA to propose a range of alternatives for public comment, to preserve their -- and your -- flexibility. They have agreed to do so. After public hearings and comment, EPA will issue a final regulation. The outcome will be very important, both economically and politically. We will continue our discussions with EPA.

PRICES. Prices paid to farmers and ranchers are up 20 percent over last year while prices paid by them are up 9 percent.

HILL. The House Ways and Means Committee struck the cost of production escalator clause and lowered, to 15 cents, the price level recommended by the Ag Committee for sugar legislation.

Beef import legislation may reach the House floor next week. There is an open rule so we will attempt to remove the restrictions on Presidential authority which would make the bill unacceptable.

CHINA. We are working out final details with the PRC, State and NSC for a November 3-13 visit. (Two weeks after Schlesinger's return, one week prior to the arrival of two Congressional delegations.)

FYI

REPORT TO THE PRESIDENT

Expectations for a slowdown in inflation during the remainder of 1978 were strengthened today with the release of August price data on producer-finished goods. The overall price index declined by 0.1%, the first decline in two years, reflecting a sharp decrease in prices for consumer foods and a slowing of price increases to 0.4% for other goods. As we continue to review proposals for Phase II of our anti-inflation program, I believe it is important that we bear in mind that the inflation rate is likely to abate in the next few months, thus providing us with breathing space which can be most useful in developing a viable longer-term anti-inflation strategy.

Current progress estimates for two minority business programs are quite encouraging. The National Minority Purchasing Council, sponsored by our Office of Minority Business Enterprise, now estimates that it will reach its 1978 goal of $1.4 billion in purchases from minority firms by its nearly 1000 member firms. This achievement would represent an increase of 75% over the past two years. The Interagency Council which promotes Federal procurement from minority firms now estimates it will reach its FY 78 goal of $1.67 billion, which would be a 100% increase over FY 76.

On the paperwork front, the Department has developed a new multiple-transaction boycott reporting form designed to simplify the filing of boycott reports by banks, freight forwarders, and exporters. The form allows firms to include up to 75 boycott-related transactions on one reporting form where 75 separate reports would previously have been required.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: SECRETARY OF LABOR, Ray Marshall Ray
SUBJECT: Major Departmental Activities, September 2-8

Preliminary Discussions with AFL-CIO on Inflation.
On Thursday, I, along with Bob Strauss, Charlie Schultze, Barry Bosworth and Landon Butler, met with the AFL-CIO committee on inflation and with Doug Fraser and other UAW officers. The meeting went very well and was preparatory to beginning a dialogue with the AFL-CIO and the UAW on inflation problems.

Met with the AFL-CIO Committee on Energy. While the meeting didn't fully turn them around on energy, the building trades are supporting the compromise energy bill. I believe this session helped moderate the opposition of the AFL-CIO, as a whole, to your energy bill.

Survey Shows Strong Support for Jobs and Training Programs. Today we released a comprehensive opinion survey that we commissioned to get a better handle on the public's attitudes toward unemployment. Not surprisingly, the survey showed that the public is most concerned about economic issues, particularly inflation. A series of questions showed consistent support for the approaches we are taking with our employment and training programs and your welfare reform proposals.

MEMORANDUM FOR: The President
Attention: Rick Hutcheson, Staff Secretary

SUBJECT: Weekly Report of Major Departmental Activities

Management Audit System to be Automated for Speedier Action on Unresolved Audits. The Audit Management System, which the Department installed in late 1977 to correct mistakes of past management practices and to avoid similar mistakes in the future, will be fully automated by September 1979. This will eliminate a backlog of unresolved audit findings and assure that all new audit requests are implemented quickly. Review time will also be reduced, thus securing additional time for management to consider appropriate action on audit findings.

Society of Real Estate Appraisers Promise Affirmative Action Program. The Society agreed to develop an affirmative action program after the Department brought suit against it for violations of the U. S. Fair Housing Law. The litigation was dismissed "with prejudice," obligating the Society to work with the Department in developing their affirmative action program. Such a program will better ensure equitable appraisal practices and hopefully result in easier access to the housing market by minorities.

Property Improvement Loans at New High. Over 40,000 property improvement loans, representing almost $159 million, were insured during August, making it the best month in the last four years. This exceeds by 8,000 loans the number insured in May, the previous high month for the year, and by 4,000 loans the number in August 1977, which had been the highest month in the four-year period.

HUD Outreach to National Retailers Continues. On Thursday, Assistant Secretary Embry and David Cordish, UDAG Office Director Designate, traveled to Chicago to meet with representatives of Montgomery Ward to discuss the HUD Action Grant program and ways it can be of assistance in the revitalization of cities. By informing leaders of key corporations about the Action Grant program, we hope to persuade them that it can be to their advantage, financially, to remain in distressed cities or to locate there. Similar discussions were conducted last month with Sears and will be held late in September with Penney's.

Defaulting Employees Asked to Repay Student Loans. The Department has requested that 43 employees owing $74,000 in government-insured student loans work out a reasonable repayment arrangement.

HUD Provides Data to Members of Congress about HUD Programs. During the past week, the Office of Congressional Liaison began distributing to Members of the House and Senate data books which detail HUD program activity in their districts for fiscal year 1977 and the first part of fiscal year 1978. The data books, which are prepared by computer, summarize all pertinent information relating to HUD grants, loans and other benefits in the Member's district. The data will be updated semiannually.

Administration's Anti-Inflation Efforts
September 2 - 8, 1978

PROGRAM

The EPG is meeting Thursday, Friday, and Saturday this week to further review and refine the staff recommendations for standards and countermeasures.

We are aiming to have recommendations to you right after the Summit concludes.

REGIONAL FORUMS

In light of the probable announcement of additions to the program, we are postponing the date for the two forums until late October or early November.

BUSINESS

We are continuing to receive favorable responses to my requests of the Fortune 1000 corporations. To date, over 175 major corporations have pledged to take actions supportive of our deceleration goals. This past week pledges of support on price deceleration were received from companies such as Archer Daniels Midland Company, Rockwell International, Levi Strauss and Company, American Standard, and Burroughs.

CONCLUSION

Most of our other activities are being held up pending your decision on further action.

I continue to believe it is essential that we take firm additional Government actions to shore up our program.

SUBJECT:

Weekly Report

1. Administration efforts to sustain your veto of the defense authorization bill were excellent. Frank Moore and his staff and Dick Moe did an excellent job of coordinating this effort and dealing with Congress. We should guard against overconfidence, though, and ensure that the Administration takes an active role in the passage of the new defense authorization bill. I recommend that you instruct Harold Brown and me to work with the authorization and appropriations committees, as evidence of your desire to be conciliatory and cooperative with the Congress. Several members of the White House Senior Staff have expressed concern to me about statements that a number of bills before Congress are unacceptable to the Administration in their current form. However, as a result of your defense authorization veto and the public statements about these bills, we are receiving more frequent overtures from the sponsors of troublesome bills to work out the problem areas. This is as it should be.
2. The budget deficit trend for FY 1979 and 1980 continues to be downward. It is now possible that the 1979 deficit will be approximately $43 billion, based upon separate action of the House and Senate on the budget resolution, which would make it smaller than the 1975 deficit of $45.1 billion or the 1977 deficit of $45.0 billion. I believe that we can get the 1980 deficit lower than we indicated in the spring review. A specific recommendation will be made to you as part of the anti-inflation proposals. The Second Budget Resolution figures passed by the Senate are generally consistent with ours:

|------------------|----------|
| Budget Authority | $557.7B |
| Outlays | 489.5B |
| Receipts | 447.2B |
| Deficit | 42.3B |

Therefore, we did not make a major effort to influence Senate floor action. Conference on the resolution will likely finish early next week, and we will provide you with a detailed report. Next week conferences will be held on both the Interior and Agriculture Appropriations bills. I have sent strong letters to the conference chairmen indicating that the Administration objects to several provisions and asking that they be changed.

3. We have begun our 1980 cross-cut series with a review of toxic substances. In addition, I have directed the establishment of an interagency Task Force on Environmental Emergencies. (See attached memo.) This task force is to report its recommendations in time for the 1980 budget reviews.
4. The House will take up civil service reform legislation again on Monday. The Speaker has decided to accelerate action on this by postponing the "suspension calendar" until a vote on civil service occurs. The House and Senate hearings on the ERISA reorganization plan are moving smoothly. The plan remains largely non-controversial and will probably be adopted before the end of the session. Reorganization Plan No. 3, Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), will become effective September 17, 1978. We should move rapidly on its implementation, especially on the appointment of the agency's head. We are working on a list of candidates to discuss with Hamilton and the White House Personnel Office so that you can be prepared to make this appointment and activate the agency as soon as possible.
5. On August 28, 1978, I spoke at the National Governors' Conference to their Executive Management and Fiscal Affairs Committee. At the personal invitation of Governor Julian Carroll, I addressed the National Conference on Joint Funding on September 6, 1978. I had breakfast with Governor Carroll, who expressed support for you and the goals of the Administration.

DPS WEEKLY STATUS REPORT

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

August 11, 1978

MEMORANDUM FOR: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: STU EIZENSTAT Sh
SUBJECT: Domestic Policy Staff Weekly Status
Report

GOVERNMENT REFORM

Civil Service: As you know, House and Senate floor consideration has been delayed. We continue to work with Scotty Campbell and Frank's staff on policy and legislative strategy. Of particular concern is how to handle the labor relations title, and Scotty has been meeting with Udall on this. We are factoring in the recent withdrawal of support by the AFGE. We have also been closely following the negotiations between Mathias and the Ribicoff-Percy staffs on Senate amendments.

Lobby Reform: A memo to you on the Senate Committee impasse shortly.

Part Time Bill: A bill to facilitate part-time Federal employment passed the House and markup is completed in the Senate Governmental Affairs Committee. We have a problem with one major provision in the bill and are working with Senate staff to resolve it.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Water Policy: Oversight hearings are being held this week in the Senate Environment and Public Works Committee.

Endangered Species: We are still working with Dingell. We have not yet endorsed any amendment. The House subcommittee marks up next week.

Alaska d(2) Lands: This week's Senate Committee markup may begin the controversial boundary and designation issues. We have now received Interior and Justice memos on "contingency plans" should the legislation not pass.

Omnibus Park Bill: We are near agreement with Burton and Abourezk on an excellent bill.

Public Works Appropriations: We are working with Anne Wexler, Frank Moore, Jerry Rafshoon, Jody and others on a strategy to build support and skillfully handle a veto if one appears necessary.

URBAN POLICY

We continue to work with Frank and Anne on major legislative items. Recent victory in the Senate Finance Committee (10-5) on Supplemental Fiscal Assistance was a good first step.

Executive Orders and changes in existing programs to be signed and announced by you on August 16.

AGRICULTURE AND RURAL DEVELOPMENT

1979 Wheat Program: A decision memorandum will come to you late this week. Depending on your decision, you might want to announce it in your speech in Columbia, Missouri next Monday, August 14.

Meat Import Legislation: Congressman Vanik's Trade Subcommittee has reported a bill that is slightly less restrictive than the Bentsen Bill. A memorandum asking for your decision on two issues will be coming to you later this week.

Hunger Commission: We are working with NSC and Jim Fallows to draft a statement announcing creation of the Commission and how its activities relate to other Administration initiatives on this topic.

ENERGY

Solar Domestic Policy Review: Proceeding on schedule.

CRBR: The DOE Authorization bill, which contains the CRBR provision, is likely to be withheld from the floor of both House and Senate until disposition of natural gas. Public Works Appropriations bill, which contains CRBR funding, passed both House and Senate. Senate bill, however, appears to make CRBR funds contingent on enactment of authorizing legislation.

Dole Amendment: Treasury Appropriations bill conferees will not be named until after disposition of natural gas.

Natural Gas: Working with Schlesinger and Moore to secure signature of natural gas conference report. Earliest possible time for agreement now appears to be August 16. Senate floor filibuster and final action not likely until after Labor Day.

Energy Taxes and Tax Audits: House Rule to consider solar and insulation tax credits separately from other energy tax provisions was defeated on August 7. Al Ullman vigorously opposed splitting these credits off of the whole tax package. COET, user taxes, and gas guzzler are very uncertain. Judgments as to how this should be handled cannot reliably be made now, and accordingly we are keeping options open.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Vietnam Veteran PRM: We are making preparations for announcement of PRM recommendations for either next week or after your vacation. We think that a personal statement by you expressing the nation's gratitude to these veterans is a key part of our PRM.

Humphrey-Hawkins: A meeting with the Full Employment Action Council, labor and civil rights leaders is scheduled for 11:45 a.m., Friday, August 18. DPS/CEA met Friday, August 11, with staff from these groups and the Senate, including Senator Byrd's office, to develop floor strategy. A detailed memo on the situation will be to you before the meeting next Friday.

CETA: The CETA bill was pulled off the House floor Wednesday night after the committee lost on a series of amendments cutting back on the number of jobs ($1 billion cut from Title VI PSE) and severely tightening pay and supplementation rules. Bill not expected back on the House floor before September. House Subcommittee declined to cooperate with the Administration before the vote in the Senate, where action is expected late next week, or the following week. We are very hopeful that we can develop a united position.

Welfare Reform: A memo asking your guidance on the development of a revised Administration welfare proposal, and for dealing with the Moynihan-Cranston-Long proposals in the Senate ought to be to you next week.

Targetted Tax Credit: The House Ways and Means Committee included a Rangel tax credit proposal in the tax bill. The Rangel proposal would provide tax credits for 18 to 24-year-olds on food stamps, Vietnam Veterans on food stamps, WIN registrants, those on general assistance and SSI, and the handicapped. It would require young workers who sought the tax credit to qualify for food stamps. Secretary Blumenthal will present the Administration's response to this proposal when he testifies before the Senate Finance Committee next Thursday, August 17.

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

September 9, 1978

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: FRANK MOORE

SUBJECT: Weekly Legislative Report

DOMESTIC POLICY ISSUES

1. NATIONAL ENERGY ACT

--Natural Gas Pricing: Senator Byrd has not extracted a time agreement from the gas bill's opponents, but plans to call the measure up anyway on Monday with an eye toward a vote on a motion to recommit on Wednesday. He appears confident of beating a motion to table (and thus kill) the conference report.

--We have succeeded in turning around scores of companies and interest groups; our work seems to be paying off. Commitments are hard to come by, but we are making progress while the other side appears to be slipping a bit. Our primary problem is the Senate floor itself where Metzenbaum and his allies are much more zealous in buttonholing and lobbying Senators than are our supporters. The notable exception to this is Senator Byrd who as of Thursday had spoken with 61 Senators personally.

--In a separate memo we will give you our vote counts. We will continue our efforts both on and off the Hill.

2. REORGANIZATION

--The Civil Service Reform bill was on the floor Thursday evening for about an hour and a half.

--Clay, in concert with Charles Wilson of California and Biaggi, managed to tie-up the proceedings but Lloyd Meeds did succeed on points of order on the Hatch and Firefighters titles. The two titles are now deleted.

--The Speaker gave Udall a choice of continuing with the bill all day Friday with a firm adjournment at 3:00 p.m. or holding the bill over until Monday and keeping it on the floor until passed. Udall decided to wait until Monday.

--Late on Friday it appeared that a solid agreement on the labor title had been reached by Udall, Ford, Clay, Derwinski, the AFL-CIO and the Administration. Gilman also has agreed to reduce the number of amendments he will introduce from 43 to 3.

--Clay still is not satisfied on the Hatch Act issue and may continue to cause problems. The hope is that sufficient peer pressure will be brought to bear on Clay on this pre-primary Monday to cause him to give up on his delay tactics. Many Members will want to wind up business early so as to get home for election day. Hopefully they can persuade Clay where we have failed.

--At your direction we have stepped up our efforts on Veterans preference and are relatively confident of success. We will provide you with a count midday on Monday.

--Education: Floor consideration of the Department of Education bill in the Senate is currently stalled as the result of a "hold" on the bill by Senator Helms. Senator Baker has indicated a willingness to talk to Senator Helms. Senator Ribicoff and the Majority Leader's staff are optimistic that it can be brought up within two weeks. Senator Ribicoff is exploring a possible compromise with Senators Percy and McGovern regarding transfer of the USDA Nutrition Education Program ($27 million). We anticipate that Senator Stevens will introduce an amendment to strike the transfer of the Indian education programs. As long as Senator Abourezk continues to support our position, we expect to defeat Senator Stevens' amendment -- though the vote may be close. The only other area where major amendments are likely is a group of anti-busing, anti-quota amendments from Senators Roth and/or McClure. It is unclear if these will be offered; we expect to be able to defeat them in any event.

--ERISA: House and Senate committees expect to complete hearings on the ERISA plan next week. The plan remains largely non-controversial. We do not anticipate difficulty in obtaining approval before the end of the session. Because the plan was submitted within 60 days of the end of the session, an affirmative vote of both Houses will be required to put the plan into effect.

--Emergency Preparedness: Both House and Senate committees have reported the emergency preparedness plan. The plan will become effective on September 17.

3. URBAN POLICY

--Labor Intensive Public Works: On Monday the Senate and House Budget conferees will determine whether the Second Concurrent Budget Resolution will contain the $1 billion authorization for LIPW. If it does, the Senate Subcommittee and the House Committee will mark up the bills this week. Succeeding in the budget should lead to a House bill having a healthy vote margin but without the labor intensity and targeting provisions of the Administration bill and probably with a $2 billion authorization.

--A Senate bill would be much closer to the Administration proposal.

--Supplementary Fiscal Assistance: During the past week Treasury contacted about 250 House offices. Each was called and sent a data package and fact sheet explaining the legislation and the amount of assistance each Congressional district would receive under the bill.

--The National Mayors' Conference has been contacting mayors urging them to speak to House and Senate members from their respective districts and states about this legislation.

--On Thursday, the Senate Finance Committee reported out a budget waiver for this program. We are still awaiting a decision from the Senate Leadership on scheduling floor action.

NOTE: Both a public works bill and a fiscal assistance bill are on the Speaker's list of must legislation for Rules Committee action before adjournment.

4. CETA

--The House is expected to resume its consideration of the CETA bill late in the day on Wednesday. The bill managers are working to hold off any additional amendments, particularly any further cuts in the authorized level of public service jobs.

--DOL is uncertain about the number of amendments likely to be offered. It is hoped the Republicans will attempt to compromise with the Committee before they go to the floor.

--DOL is showing individual Members how much they have already cut in their own districts in an effort to dissuade them from supporting any more cuts.

5. BEEF IMPORTS

--The House Rules Committee voted an open rule allowing for one hour of general debate. The bill could come up this week.

--We are likely to be supporting amendments providing for a yearly import floor of 1.3 billion pounds and removing restrictions on Presidential authority to suspend meat import quotas.

6. AVIATION

--The airline noise bill is on the House calendar for Monday with probable consideration on Tuesday. Congressman Vanik will lead a strong fight against the bill. The deregulation bill is on the Thursday calendar. We are optimistic.

7. SURFACE TRANSPORTATION

--Secretary Adams will send a letter to Members outlining our problems with the bill -- House consideration is expected late this week.

--Congressman Giaimo has indicated interest in offering an amendment similar to the Gibbons/Conable approach. He is testing the waters before making a final decision. His staff has indicated he will not offer an amendment to cut the funding levels from specific highway programs.

--Senate consideration of the transit title will probably be postponed until at least September 20 because Senator Brooke will not be back in Washington until after the Massachusetts primary.

--We still expect Senator Morgan to offer an amendment cutting the four-year authorization by a billion dollars. WH CL, DPS and OMB will be meeting with DOT on Monday to review their efforts to find Members of both Houses who might offer additional amendments to bring the bill closer to your budget.

8. OIL IMPORT FEES (Dole Amendment)

--Our success in defeating the motion to instruct the House Conferees (200-194) to accept the Dole Amendment was a scrambling effort. Much of the credit for success should go to the leadership -- specifically to Jim Wright and also to Toby Moffett and Bill Steiger.

--Representative Steed, Chairman of the House Conferees, has indicated that he supported the effort to defeat the motion to instruct only in order to prevent embarrassing you, and will now facilitate a second House vote on the issue by returning from the Conference with a motion to disagree.

--Much work is needed on both the House and Senate conferees since many of them based their position on procedure and not on substance.

9. SAFE BANKING ACT

--The House Rules Committee Wednesday granted an open rule for the Safe Banking bill. It may come up on the House floor as early as September 19. It is anticipated that there will be several amendments to the bill on the floor.

--The House bill places ceilings on borrowing by bank insiders and establishes conflict-of-interest standards for policy-making officials who regulate financial institutions. It also prohibits preferential loan treatment to bank insiders whose institutions have placed funds on deposit in "correspondence accounts" with other banks. In addition, the bill places restrictions on overdrafts by bank officers.

--The Senate bill is considerably more limited in scope than the House bill. The conference could therefore be prolonged and difficult.

10. FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE SURVEILLANCE ACT

--The House on Thursday moved the electronic surveillance bill through to final passage by a final vote of 246-128, after reconsidering and then defeating the so-called "McClory Amendment" which had been adopted the previous day. This amendment would have limited the warrant requirement provided for in the bill to electronic surveillance cases involving U.S. persons.

--There are three troublesome provisions in the House bill which we hope can be dealt with in conference: 1) the "Ertel Amendment" which provides that warrant requests can be heard in any U.S. District Court having proper venue, rather than the "Special Court" provided in the Senate bill; 2) a requirement that both the Assistant to the President and a Senate-confirmed appointee sign the warrant certification and 3) a statement that the bill is the "exclusive statutory means" by which Presidential authority can be exercised.

11. ENDANGERED SPECIES ACT AMENDMENTS

--The House Subcommittee on Fisheries, Wildlife Conservation and the Environment will meet on Monday to continue action on the bill. Pending, when the Subcommittee last met, were two slightly altered versions of the Senate-passed Culver/Baker Amendment: a weaker Leggett/Bowen approach and a slightly stronger Dingell/Forsythe amendment.

--Interior reports that Chairman Murphy of the full Committee recently instructed Leggett and Dingell to work out a suitable compromise between their two approaches or he would pull the issue up to full Committee.

--Even if the issue moves quickly through Committee consideration in the House, probable heated floor action and a potentially divided Conference threaten to preclude action on the bill at all during the short time remaining in this session. The absence of a bill this session would have dire consequences for the program. It needs reauthorization at this point or all funding will expire on October 1.

--Representatives from the Department of the Interior, Commerce, Council on Environmental Quality, and Environmental Protection Agency met on Friday with DPS to discuss Administration strategy. A letter from Secretaries Kreps and Andrus endorsing the Dingell amendment will go to all subcommittee members.

12. LABOR LAW REFORM

--DOL reports that Senators Williams and Javits are still hopeful a "stripped down" bill could be passed.

13. TAXES

--In two days of mark up last week there was much posturing but no real action. Senator Long appears to be stalling to see how the Conference of the Second Concurrent Budget Resolution comes out. (Conference expected to be completed on Monday.)

14. OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ACT (OSHA)

--The conferees met on H.R. 11445 (Small Business Act) but deferred action on the Bartlett amendment until September 12. That amendment, which would exempt 69% of all employers now covered by the Act, is strongly opposed by the Administration, the AFL-CIO, and the key Congressional Committees. An earlier letter by SBA and one by OMB strongly opposed the amendment and on September 7 Stu sent a letter to Senators Bartlett, Baker, Curtis, Dole, Hayakawa, Wallop and Church. It appears at this point that the conferees are likely to settle on a Nelson-Haskell compromise which is more acceptable.

15. APPROPRIATIONS

--Enrolled: Military construction, District of Columbia, 1978 Supplemental.

--To Be Enrolled This Week: Public Works.

--In Conference: Interior and Agriculture. As I indicated last week, Jim McIntyre sent strong letters on each to the conferees. Both conferences will meet on Tuesday.

--Ready for Senate Action: Labor-HEW; Senator Brooke has requested it be held until after September 19.

FOREIGN POLICY ISSUES

1. DOD AUTHORIZATION BILL

--The staff of the Senate Armed Services Committee has indicated that they may hold a hearing as early as Tuesday with Harold Brown as the lead witness.

--Senator Stennis does not have full agreement in his Committee on the new bill. Gary Hart has been working to drum up support to add a Kennedy-class conventionally powered carrier.

--It is uncertain what approach Mel Price will take. He was to meet with John Stennis on Friday. Stennis will probably urge the HASC to adopt his proposal to remove only the nuclear carrier. Price tentatively set hearings for Wednesday.

2. FOREIGN AID APPROPRIATIONS

--The Inouye Subcommittee of the Senate Appropriations Committee is scheduled to mark up the Foreign Assistance bill on Tuesday. The full Committee is expected to act on Thursday. Floor action could come sometime during the week of September 18-22.

--Last week the Budget Conference for the Second Concurrent Budget resolution adopted the higher Senate figures allowing from $250-$275 million in increases over the House-passed level. (AID conferred with Chairman Giaimo and also worked closely with Congressman Obey to have the Senate level adopted, and it was in great part due to Obey's efforts that the Conference Committee agreed to do so.)

--Now, we are not at all certain that Inouye's Subcommittee will be willing to go as high as the Budget Resolution will permit. Chairman Magnuson and Inouye's ranking Minority Member, Schweiker, both voted for Harry Byrd's $2.4 billion cut in the International Affairs function when the Budget Resolution was on the floor this week. ~

--The State Department sees urgent requirements which must be met by the Inouye Subcommittee, the largest of which are the following:

Economic Support Assistance for Turkey as part of the embargo-lifting package.
Budget amendment submitted. Funds not included in House appropriation because authorization incomplete. $50 million

Economic Supporting Assistance for Syria.
Administration request defeated by House. $90 million

Minimal acceptable restoration of House cuts in Security Assistance programs. $45 million.

MISCELLANEOUS

--The opponents of the Public Works Appropriations Bill are already working very hard to override an anticipated veto of the bill. Before making a decision we strongly recommend you meet w/appropriate House leaders on water projects fight to further discuss the outcome of such an attempt. Congressmen Derrick, Conte and Edgar are quietly working the House to sustain the veto.

--Minimum Wage: Senator Tower has announced his intention to try to amend whatever legislation he can find to postpone the minimum wage increase scheduled to take effect on January 1, 1979. It is possible that he will move such an amendment on the Humphrey-Hawkins bill. He has notified both the Republican and Democratic cloakrooms that he will give 24 hours warning of his action.

--DOL feels that "the Administration must -- at all costs -- oppose this effort. If we do not work our hardest to stop this amendment, we will suffer an irretrievable political loss."

Rome, September 4, 1978

PERSONAL AND CONFIDENTIAL

Dear Mr. President:

The Vice President was kind enough to suggest that I put on paper some thoughts about our representation to the Vatican and to offer to carry this letter to you directly on his return trip from Rome.

There are really three points which I would like to emphasize:

First, I would like to emphasize the importance of assuring that your next Personal Representative to the Holy See be someone of stature and someone with outstanding political and diplomatic skills. From my knowledge of Pope John Paul, whom Danielle and I have come to know in her home city of Venice, I would judge that he would be an activist Pope taking a deep interest in problems of peace and social justice. He is very well disposed to the United States and will certainly look for opportunities to cooperate with us. The Holy See, in the future as in the past, will be playing a major role in key issues of interest to us such as human rights, the Middle East, economic development, humanitarian affairs, etc.

Second, it is essential that we continue to maintain a clear distinction between my role as U.S. Ambassador to the Republic of Italy and the role of your Personal Representative to the Holy See. The Vatican is very sensitive about this, as you know, because it wishes its separate and independent role to be clearly acknowledged. At the same time, important segments of public opinion in both Italy and the United States concerned with the separation of Church and State react negatively to any activity by the American Ambassador to the Republic of Italy which seems to involve him unduly in Vatican affairs. This has caused difficulty in the past and for that reason I have been extra careful from the very beginning of my responsibilities here to keep a clear distinction between my role and that of your Vatican representative.

This brings me to my third and last point, which is to explain why I did not accompany Mrs. Carter on her visit to Rome to attend the funeral of Pope Paul. As you can imagine, bearing in mind our friendship which dates from the beginning of your campaign for the Presidency, I had every personal motive for wanting to accompany Mrs. Carter on this important mission. As soon as I heard of the death of Pope Paul, I was in touch with the State Department and offered to cut short my vacation in Aspen and return to Rome. I was told, however, that for the reasons outlined in the paragraph above, my presence in Rome on this occasion was neither necessary nor appropriate. Indeed, our Rome Embassy reported that the Vatican had explicitly said it did not want Ambassadors to the Republic of Italy involved in the affair and that other Ambassadors to Italy were not returning for the occasion. It was further emphasized that, unlike the Inaugural event of this weekend, there would be no meetings between heads of delegations and Italian political leaders -- in other words no peripheral activities making my presence appropriate. In effect, I was told: "This is not your show. The appropriate Ambassador to be with the First Lady is the President's Personal Representative to the Holy See. You must defer to him on this occasion." And this is precisely what I did. (The State Department's views on this are recorded in a memorandum from Assistant Secretary Vest to the Secretary of State which I have given to the Vice President and which I believe he will make available to you.)

As soon as Cy Vance learned of your desire for me to accompany Mrs. Carter, he tried to get in touch with me in Aspen. Unfortunately, I was hiking in the mountains and was not able to return his call until after Mrs. Carter had left for Rome. By that time there was no way for me to get back in time to be of any use.

Danielle and I are hoping very much that Mrs. Carter will find an occasion to visit Italy soon again, perhaps in connection with her attendance at the next World Health Assembly, which I understand may be tentatively scheduled for next May. Such a visit would be the high point of our mission here thus far.

I hope you will pass along this explanation of recent events to Mrs. Carter along with our special good wishes.

With warm personal regards in which Danielle joins,

Sincerely,

NAMIBIA

The Five have been consulting intensively throughout the week with the parties concerned with Namibia to determine the obstacles to acceptance of the Secretary General's report and their solutions. The consultations have proved productive and continue. While there is no possibility of a formal Security Council meeting on Namibia this week, we are hopeful that the issues can be resolved shortly, thus setting the stage for formal Council action.

LAW OF THE SEA

Committee I - No consensus was reached on accounting procedures to be used by deep seabed mining contractors opting for the royalty plus profit sharing mode of payment.

Committee II - Completed discussion of the definition of the outer limit of the continental margin and revenue sharing. Also discussion of compulsory settlement of maritime boundary disputes was suspended pending completion of a UN study.

Committee III - Took an important step forward with the issuance of a working paper listing the pollution amendments now informally advanced as a part of a consensus.

COMMITTEE OF 24 (C-24)

Cuba and Iraq introduced a resolution on Puerto Rico containing language unacceptable to the U.S. in the UN Committee of 24. The text reflects the input of both the Independista and Commonwealth groups. It contains allegations that the U.S. has refused to act on proposals to modify Puerto Rico's present status and refers to "persecutions" and "repressive measures" by U.S. agencies in violation of human rights of the Puerto Rican people. It would call upon the USG to take immediate steps to enable the people of Puerto Rico to freely exercise their right to self-determination and independence. We have lobbied vigorously against the Cuban resolution. Australia has submitted amendments designed to make it more palatable to the U.S. and India is helping by seeking support for compromises which could be approved by consensus. A vote may take place September 8.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM: The Vice President [Signature]
SUBJECT: Vatican/Rome Trip Report

My September 3-4 visit to Italy and the Vatican as your representative to the Papal Inaugural Ceremony had as its centerpiece a private audience with His Holiness, Pope John Paul I. Additionally, I had a breakfast meeting with Helmut Schmidt at his request, and separate meetings with Prime Minister Andreotti and President Videla of Argentina. The entire U.S. delegation was deeply moved and inspired by the Mass and Audience marking the official beginning of the new Pope's reign. All were deeply appreciative that you had included them in the delegation.

Audience with Pope John Paul I

Following the formal audience with all foreign delegations on September 4, Pope John Paul I received me for a private audience. Without doubt, the length of the meeting -- 30 minutes compared to an average of two minutes for the Royalty and Chiefs of State he received -- is a clear indication of the importance he and the Vatican attach to consultations with your emissaries and with the United States.

The Pope read your letter carefully. He laughed and was delighted by the line "As one who was not expected to become President ..." He reacted by saying "You are a real American." He noted your hope to meet with him and said that he looked forward to meeting with you. He said that the United States is the hope of the world.

We discussed the Church's vital role in the field of human rights. I stressed the importance we attached to this role in Eastern Europe and in oppressive regimes throughout the world. The Pope listened but did not state the approach he plans to take. I reported on your plans for the Camp David summit.

He said that the summit is of the greatest importance and that he would pray every day for the success of Camp David. In our discussion of the Middle East I noted the difficulties being created by the Christian Maronites in Lebanon and expressed the hope that the Church would work its influence to restrain this faction; he took note of this. As my audience came to an end, he again said that you have his prayers.

My impression is that Pope John Paul I has a sharp intellect, a very warm outgoing personality and instincts that will serve him well as head of the Church. Based on our conversation, I do not believe that he has made foreign affairs a specialty prior to his election. Given the role of the Church, I believe it will be of great value to continue close consultations early in the new Pope's reign, and I think it important that your new personal representative to the Vatican be an individual with a good grasp of international affairs.

Meeting with Chancellor Schmidt

While we touched briefly on a number of subjects, the Middle East and the current spy scandal in the FRG were the principal topics of conversation. Schmidt wished you well at Camp David. He is firm in the belief that Sadat is a peg above other Arabs, that he is looking for an Egyptian solution not an Arab solution and that he is hoping for agreement on a set of Middle East principles that will then enable him to sign an agreement with Israel. Schmidt was very pessimistic about the position Begin would take at the summit. Schmidt is looking forward to a visit by Zbig Brzezinski following the summit. I think it would be useful if Zbig were also to stop in London and Paris to debrief Callaghan and Giscard d'Estaing.

The current FRG spy scandal is a major preoccupation for Schmidt. He believes that the source for the Evans and Novak column which broke the story is the conservative political opposition in the FRG. He greatly appreciated the statement that you had authorized him to make last weekend, saying that we have no evidence to support the allegations against Egon Bahr. He emphasized his hope that the current scandal would not jeopardize US-FRG intelligence liaison activities. I told him it would not. Schmidt repeated that his political opposition is determined to make the most of the scandal. He said he did not need any help at present, but that he might need to ask you for a "political statement" emphasizing the FRG's reliability as an ally if pressure from his opposition continues to mount.

Meeting with Prime Minister Andreotti

The meeting with Andreotti brought no surprises. He was pleased to receive your letter and asked me to thank you. We discussed Italy's economic situation; he was cautiously optimistic about the prospects for his Three Year Plan. On terrorism, he said his government would be pleased to receive Ambassador Quainton to discuss further cooperation. He made a point of noting the difficulties that Colby's book - with its revelations on U.S. intelligence activities in Italy - was causing him domestically. On defense, we both noted the value of his Defense Minister's visit to the United States next week. On the Middle East, while he stressed his hope that Camp David would succeed, he expressed pessimism because of Begin's difficult stance - and wondered aloud about waiting to deal with a post-Begin Israeli Government.

Meeting with President Videla of Argentina

On the afternoon of September 4, I met with President Videla for 30 minutes at Ambassador Dick Gardner's residence. Videla warmly recalled his meeting with you at the time of the Panama Canal Treaties signing ceremony. While not wishing to seem a supplicant, he stressed his concern over deteriorating US-Argentine relations. I told him that we want to get our relations back on the right track but that he must understand the importance the United States attaches to human rights. I noted that we were facing the October 1 date when the Humphrey-Kennedy amendment comes into effect, and the impact this will have on our defense cooperation. I noted the mid-September timing for ExIm Bank action on the Allis-Chalmers letter of interest. I said that I thought it important that he take positive action in the human rights field as soon as possible -- namely, announcing an invitation to the Inter-American Human Rights Commission to visit Argentina on terms acceptable to the Commission. I also noted that the American press, public and Congress follow the plight of individuals such as Jacobo Timerman and said that favorable action on such cases would help our relations. Finally, I said that we hoped he would receive Assistant Secretary Vaky for a detailed review of steps that can be taken to get our relations back on the right track.

Videla attaches great importance to the Allis-Chalmers deal. I suggested that if he could confirm that he would announce a satisfactory invitation to the Inter-American Human Rights Commission, we might be able to take favorable action on the ExIm letter of interest prior to his announcement - without linking the two.

He said that I could confirm to you that he will make this announcement this month as soon as possible after September 15, and he said that following the announcement he would also be agreeable to having Assistant Secretary Vaky visit Argentina. I have provided this information to Cy and Zbig, and State has begun to follow up in detail to ensure that Videla's actions will be sufficient to permit us to take a step forward in parallel.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

From: Charlie Schultze CLS
Subject: Producer Prices in August

Tomorrow (Friday, September 8) at 9:00 a.m., the Bureau of Labor Statistics will release statistics on producer (wholesale) prices of finished goods in August. The total for all finished goods declined 0.1 percent last month, the first reduction since August 1976. Consumer finished foods fell 1.5 percent, following a 0.3 percent reduction in July. Other finished goods rose 0.4 percent, the smallest rise since February. Clearly, this is very good news.

In the consumer food area, prices of fresh fruits and vegetables declined 6.7 percent -- as the summer vegetable crop has begun to be harvested. Egg prices declined 4 percent, and meat prices were relatively unchanged. Prices of raw farm produce, which will affect consumer finished food prices later, were also down. Grain prices fell 6 percent; livestock, 1 percent; live poultry, 12 percent; and green coffee, 10 percent. Food prices at the grocery store are thus likely to rise very moderately over the next several months.

Outside the food area, the moderation in the rise of finished goods prices in August stemmed from the absence of large increases in particular items of the sort that have plagued us recently (jewelry in some months, passenger cars in others). One good month does not make a trend. Since production costs for nonfood commodities are still rising rapidly, we have to be prepared for a resumption of relatively large increases in prices of nonfood finished goods in the months ahead.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

From: Charlie Schultze CLS
Subject: Business Investment Plans

The Commerce Department will release tomorrow (Thursday, September 7) at 9:30 a.m., the results of its latest survey of business plans for plant and equipment spending in 1978. This survey, taken in late July and August, indicates a planned increase in capital spending of 12.3 percent in 1978. This is 1 percentage point more than the increase indicated in the previous survey, taken in late April and May.

This is a relatively small upward revision, and it reflects higher expenditures in the second quarter than had been expected in the prior survey. The increase in planned expenditures for the latter half of this year was not increased.

This survey result is consistent with our current forecast. Measured on a fourth quarter to fourth quarter basis (rather than year over year), the planned rise in capital expenditures in dollar terms is 15 percent. This would translate to a real increase of 7 to 8 percent. Our current forecast assumes a 7-3/4 percent rise.

The results of this survey are moderately encouraging. Recently, some other indicators of business investment spending have suggested that a significant weakness in this important category of expenditures might be on the horizon. The rate of growth in business capital outlays seems likely to slow somewhat in 1979, but there is nothing in the current survey to indicate a major weakening.

Q

MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

FROM:

TIM KRAFT TK
JIM GAMMILL Jim G

SUBJECT:

Delegates to the UNESCO
General Conference

The Twentieth General Conference of UNESCO will be held in Paris, October 24 to November 28. Five delegates and five alternates are appointed by you and confirmed by the Senate.

The General Conference, consisting of representatives of all UNESCO Member States, is the highest plenary body of the Organization. It meets every two years to determine the policies and main lines of work of UNESCO. This will be an unusually important meeting because the Conference will discuss a Soviet-proposed draft declaration on the media and the U.S. will try to prevent efforts to insert the Zionism-Racism formula into a draft declaration on race and racial prejudice. This session will consider the program and budget for the biennium 1979-1980, and will elect members of the Executive Board.

In making the following recommendations, we have sought to include a broad cross section of Americans in public and private life concerned with international affairs and qualified to address the main program sectors of UNESCO -- education, natural and social sciences, culture and communications. In addition, the delegation will also include up to twenty Advisers and Congressional Advisers which do not require Presidential appointment.

For Chairman:

John E. Reinhardt, Director of the International Communications Agency. He served as Chairman of the U.S. Delegation to the Nineteenth General

Conference in 1976. Since his Agency is responsible for several areas to be discussed at the Conference, he is the logical choice.

For Delegates:

Esteban E. Torres, Permanent Representative to UNESCO in Paris. He will be designated as Vice Chairman.

Hale Champion, Under Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. It is customary for an official of HEW to be in the delegation. This is Secretary Califano's choice.

Sarah G. Power, Chairperson of the U.S. Commission for UNESCO. She has served on the Commission since 1973 representing the United Nations Association, and she was a Delegate to the Nineteenth General Conference.

William Attwood, Publisher of Newsday, Inc. He has served as Ambassador to Guinea and Kenya, and as a special adviser to the UN General Assembly.

Alternate Delegates:

Mathilde Krim, Associate Member of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research. Dr. Krim is a prominent microbiologist who has been active in other areas including the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Joseph D. Duffey, Chairman of the National Endowment for the Humanities. He is an educator, a scholar and former Assistant Secretary of State for Cultural Affairs.

Maurice A. Ferre, Mayor of Miami. He is a member of the UNESCO National Commission representing state and local governments.

Arthur K. Solomon, Professor of Biophysics at Harvard. He is a former member of the UNESCO National Commission representing the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is presently Chairman of the Board of International Organizations and Programs of the National Academy of Sciences. He served as an Alternate to the Nineteenth General Conference of UNESCO.

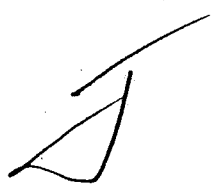

Leila Fraser, Chief Administrator to the Mayor of Milwaukee. Dr. Fraser was employed in the offices of the Chancellor and the Vice Chancellor at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. She was Acting Director of the Office of International Programs at the University of Kentucky.

RECOMMENDATION:

Nominate the above-listed Delegates and Alternates to the UNESCO General Conference.

William Attwood
President and Publisher

William Attwood, president and publisher of Newsday, was born in Paris, France of American parents on July 14, 1919. He was educated in the United States and was graduated from the Choate School in 1937 and in 1941 from Princeton University, where he majored in history and politics.

After three months at Columbia University Law School, he enlisted in the Army as a private in December, 1941. He served in the Middle East and the Pacific with the Counter Intelligence Corps and was a paratrooper with the 13th Airborne Division, rising to the rank of captain by the war's end.

From 1946 to 1949, Mr. Attwood worked as a correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, first in its Washington bureau, then in Europe and later in New York, where he covered the United Nations. In 1949, he joined Collier's magazine as European correspondent and also wrote a nationally syndicated column.

From 1951 until 1961, Mr. Attwood worked for Look magazine, serving successively as European editor, national affairs editor and foreign editor. During this period he traveled 35,000 miles and visited over 70 countries to interview many of the world's leaders. In 1953, he joined Adlai E. Stevenson on an around-the-world fact-finding assignment for Look.

In 1960, Mr. Attwood took a leave of absence to serve as a speechwriter for John F. Kennedy during that year's presidential campaign. Between 1961 and 1966, he served successively under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson as U. S. Ambassador to two African states, Guinea and Kenya, and as adviser on African affairs to this country's UN mission.

In May, 1966, Mr. Attwood returned to Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look, as editor in chief and was named to the additional post of vice president and director the following August. He joined Newsday as president and publisher in November, 1970.

Mr. Attwood and his wife, Simone, were among a handful of American journalists and their wives who were admitted to China in the spring of 1971. In June, 1971, he filed a series of reports from Peking for Newsday, which were among the first to point out that the one stumbling block to the establishment of cordial United States-People's Republic of China diplomatic relations was the continued American support of Taiwan as the legitimate government of China. The reports also included an exclusive interview with exiled Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia--the first by an American since he was deposed and exiled--and an interview with Premier Chou En-lai.

In addition to many newspaper and magazine articles, Mr. Attwood has written four books, "The Man Who Could Grow Hair" (1949), "Still the Most Exciting Country" (1955), "The Reds and the Blacks" (1967) and "The Fairly Scary Adventure Book" (1969). His work has earned a number of national journalism awards, including the National Headliners Club Award, the George Polk Memorial Award and the Page One Award.

In 1971, Mr. Attwood was elected an alumni trustee of Princeton University. In 1971, he became a trustee of the Samuel H. Kress Foundation. He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations, the Century Association, and the American Foreign Service Association, and a director of the Overseas Development Council and the Advertising Council.

The Attwoods live at 423 Carter Street, New Canaan, Connecticut. They have three children--Peter 26, Janet (Mrs. R. S. duPont) 25, and Susan 14.

MEMORANDUM

THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

13 September 1978

TO: THE PRESIDENT
FROM: RICK HUTCHESON R.H.
SUBJECT: Memos Not Submitted

1. SAM BROWN MEMO informing you that the Peace Corps expects to place volunteers in several new countries in FY 79, including Bangladesh, Tanzania, Congo, Sudan and Indonesia. The Peace Corps is also entering into discussions with Guinea-Bissau, the Cape Verde Islands, Zambia, Egypt, Somalia, Malagasy, Haiti, Bolivia, Papua-New Guinea, Namibia and Zimbabwe. All discussions are being coordinated with State. The new countries are "among the poorest and most needy, and represent a major step in focusing Peace Corps energies on the world's poor." C
2. AMBASSADOR RICHARD GARDNER sent you a letter explaining why he did not accompany Mrs. Carter on her visit to Rome to attend Pope Paul Paul's funeral. As soon as Gardner heard of the Pope's death, he check with State, and offered to cut short his vacation and return to Rome. The State Department, however, indicated that his "presence in Rome on this occasion was neither necessary nor appropriate. Indeed, our Rome Embassy reported that the Vatican had explicitly said it did not want Ambassadors to the Republic of Italy involved in the affair and that other Ambassadors to Italy were not returning for the occasion... As soon as Cy Vance learned of your desire for me to accompany Mrs. Carter, he tried to get in touch with me in Aspen. Unfortunately... I was not able to return his call until after Mrs. Carter had left for Rome." C
3. Other notes/memos from:
 - ED SANDERS, passing along an American Jewish Committee statement urging Congress to pass the natural gas bill;
 - GRIFFIN BELL, letting you know that former President Ford endorsed the Foreign Intelligence Serveillance Act; ✓

- HUGH CARTER, giving you the list of August security violations; ✓
- MAX CLELAND, letting you know of his appointment of James Crutcher (Decatur, GA) as Chief Medical Director of the VA; ✓
- FRANK PRESS, letting you know he has accepted on your behalf an award from the Pan American Federation of Engineering Societies; and ✓
- ANNE WEXLER, giving you an outline of staff assignments and tasks in the event you veto the public works appropriations bill. ✓

RL
MEMORANDUM

TO: The President
FROM: Sam Brown
SUBJECT: New Peace Corps Commitments to Foreign Countries

I would like to bring you up to date on increased interest in Peace Corps. Separate notification to OMB is being made.

Several Third World countries recently have invited us to begin Peace Corps programs. We plan to start programs in six new countries during FY '79. The positive attitude toward Peace Corps in these Third World nations is due in large part, I feel, to your involvement and support of Peace Corps, the identification your family has with it, and changing attitudes toward the U.S.

As you know, our goal in January 1977 was to revitalize Peace Corps and make it more responsive to a changing world order. We also wanted to rekindle excitement in Peace Corps and to improve its quality. In the past 17 months we have focused on Peace Corps' special attributes -- its emphasis on human rather than capital-intensive strategies, and its people-to-people approach. This focus has included improvements in both training and program development.

Because new country entry is so public and so important, I asked Mary King to be responsible for this aspect of our work. Her efforts (and the cooperation of the Department of State) will enable us to place volunteers in six new countries during 1979. Each of these countries is among the poorest and most needy, and represents a major step in focusing Peace Corps energies on the world's poor. We are, in addition, planning to enter or begin discussions with another ten countries.

All of us at ACTION are greatly encouraged by the warm reception Peace Corps is receiving abroad. In FY 1979 we expect to place volunteers in the following six new countries: Bangladesh, Tanzania, Congo, Sudan, Egypt and Indonesia. The attachment will bring you up to date on our progress, including comments on India. We are particularly proud that we can partially accomplish this revitalization by re-ordering priorities and shifting funds within planned budget levels. Program funds for these new countries will be provided in 1979 by phasing down and eliminating lower priority programs, while we have requested a small supplemental for staff support.

Looking toward FY 1980, we plan to or have already started discussions with Guinea-Bissau, the Cape Verde Islands, Zambia, Somalia, Malagasy, Haiti, Bolivia, Papua-New Guinea, Namibia and Zimbabwe. All such discussions are of course coordinated through the State Department.

ATTACHMENT

BANGLADESH

Your personal note to President Ziaur Rahman paved the way for Mary King's December 1977 discussions with President Zia and set the stage for concluding negotiations of a Peace Corps country agreement with unprecedented dispatch.

At the request of Ambassador Saddiqui of Bangladesh, a special ceremony was held in Washington on July 28 to sign the agreement. A message from Vice President Mondale was a highlight of the signing.

The first group of 20 volunteers will support projects in rural development, social welfare and women's cooperatives. We expect to expand the program to perhaps 50 volunteers in subsequent years.

TANZANIA

Peace Corps entry into Tanzania has special importance. Ambassador Young arranged for John Lewis and me to meet with President Julius Nyerere in Atlanta in August, 1977, at which time President Nyerere invited me to visit him in Tanzania and plan a Peace Corps program.

Carolyn Payton and I visited Tanzania in January 1978 and discussed Peace Corps assistance with President Nyerere. A programming team was sent in May 1978 and was frankly overwhelmed by the government's request for 355 volunteers. We decided to start instead with two quality programs, and will send 25 PCVs to work in fresh water fisheries and 25 to work on reforestation. The first volunteers will be recruited this Fall.

POPULAR REPUBLIC OF THE CONGO (Congo-Brazzaville)

President Yhomby Opango made clear his interest in Peace Corps and I personally visited Brazzaville in January to discuss programming possibilities. Our staff subsequently met with Congo government officials and firmed up plans for an initial group of 14 volunteers to assist the Ministry of Agriculture in rice and maize production. The first group of volunteers is expected to arrive in mid-FY '79. This is the first time PCV's will serve in the Congo.

SUDAN

Following a decade of civil war and recent political changes the potential now exists for Peace Corps to become a participant in helping Sudanese development.

Mary King visited Khartoum late last spring at the invitation of the government. This was the first time that the Sudan had ever shown interest in Peace Corps. We are advised by Ambassador Bergus that following Ramadan, early in the fall, there will probably be a formal invitation from President Numeiri.

Initial programs will probably focus on primary health care, agriculture extension, fisheries and antidesertification programs. We expect that the first group of volunteers will be in training by the summer of 1979.

EGYPT

Mrs. Carter's support clearly advanced the positive discussions Mary King had with Mrs. Sadat and key members of the Egyptian government. The warm reception Mary received during her visit in May, 1978 augurs well for future Peace Corps involvement in Egypt.

Although negotiations to establish a formal Peace Corps program in Egypt have been postponed, we will be working in FY'79 within the framework of existing programs and bilateral arrangements between the U.S. and Egypt to respond to Mrs. Sadat's request for rehabilitation specialists for her Faith and Hope Rehabilitation Project. Mary is exploring the possibilities of having half a dozen or more specially recruited short-term volunteers seconded to a private voluntary organization. She has worked closely with the NSC as well as State in discussing assistance activities in Egypt.

INDONESIA

Vice President Mondale had planned to introduce the possibility of Peace Corps in Indonesia in his discussions with President Suharto, but he decided not to after several news stories hostile to Peace Corps appeared in Indonesian papers just as Vice President Mondale arrived in Jakarta.

Peace Corps had served in Indonesia until 1965 when Communist spokesmen began a program of daily abuse through newspapers and other media sources.

With the assistance of Assistant Secretary Richard Holbrooke, we are now exploring several mechanisms for cooperative assistance in Indonesia through private, non-governmental or other international assistance efforts. We are looking to BUTSI, Indonesia's own rural development volunteer service program as a possible umbrella under which to provide assistance to Indonesia.

These new efforts have been encouraged by and closely coordinated with Ambassador Masters, and should lead to sending a small preliminary group in-country to begin service in rural development toward the latter part of '79.

INDIA

You are of course aware of this situation from your discussions with Prime Minister Desai in New Delhi and Washington. Peace Corps has always been subjected to some criticism in India and has historically been vulnerable to political allegations, most of which we believe were unrelated to performance.

While the opportunities for a Peace Corps program per se have been foreclosed, there are possibilities for us to assist the government of India in building its own domestic development service -- in effect, technical assistance to help India develop its own VISTA-type program.

Over the long term these efforts to help India better deploy its own technicians may make as much of a contribution to India as direct Peace Corps service; they may, in fact, leave a more important legacy in place.

MEMORANDUM FOR: RICK HUTCHESON
FROM: CHRISTINE DODSON Chd
SUBJECT: Sam Brown Memo re New Peace
Corps Commitments to Foreign Countries

The attached memo from Sam Brown is very misleading on the subject of the Peace Corps in Egypt. The response to Mary King's visit to Egypt was that the time was not ripe to establish a Corps presence in Egypt. But Mrs. Sadat asked for some assistance with her own favorite charity (Faith and Hope Rehabilitation), and Mary King agreed.

The text of the memo is technically correct in saying that "volunteers" will be placed in Egypt, inter alia. But the impression that there is to be a Peace Corps presence established in Egypt in FY 79 is totally incorrect.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION, Fri., Sept. 1, 1978 ****

James C. Crutcher With Head Nurse Rosae Jenkins

Atlantan Named Chief Of VA Medical Service

By Carole Ashkinaze
Constitution Staff Writer

An Atlanta physician who says he gets "real joy out of two things in life: teaching, and the feeling of helping out a patient," will take a cut in pay to assume the responsibility Sept. 11 for more than 18 million patients annually and the training of more than 90,000 future doctors, dentists and nurses a year.

James Carroll Crutcher, associate chief of staff for education at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Decatur and a professor of medicine and allied health sciences at Emory University, said Thursday that he would receive $52,500 a year in his new post as chief medical director of the vast nationwide complex of VA hospitals and medical programs.

"That will mean less income for me over the next four years," the term of his appointment, he admitted in answer to a question, "but it's an opportunity to have some real influence."

Crutcher, 53, a former battlefield surgeon who joined the U.S. Navy in 1943 as an apprentice seaman and is currently a brigadier general in the U.S. Army Medical Corps, replaces John B. Chase, who retired July 28.

Max Cleland, President Carter's administrator of Veterans' Affairs, described Crutcher in his announcement of the appointment Wednesday as a man who "combines great compassion with outstanding competence" and as a "staunch advocate" for the veterans who receive medical care.

"I have always tried to interweave the compassion of medicine with the science of medicine," Crutcher said. "Each patient I see is the most important person in the world and has my undivided attention when I'm with him," Crutcher said.

There were "wiser, more important" candidates for the top VA post, he said, "but that's the way I have always practiced medicine. And this is, I think, why Max chose me."

As chief medical director, Crutcher said his ambition will be "to create an environment of real genuine human interest and caring" in the 172 hospitals, 220 outpatient clinics and 89 nursing home care units within his jurisdiction, particularly as they relate to the "aging World War II veteran and the alienated Vietnam veteran."

Crutcher said he feels keenly the difference between the former, whose problems are chiefly those of illness and old age, and the latter, who is, as a rule, "pretty healthy physically, given the relatively young age of the Vietnam vet, but suffering from a deep-rooted sense of alienation and neglect."

During the Southeast Asian conflict, the draft was "indeed selective," Crutcher says grimly, in that it granted deferments to those pursuing higher education and advanced degrees and not to those "who didn't have an opportunity to make it," especially the disadvantaged and members of minority groups.

These veterans, he says, are now seeking treatment for alcoholism and, to a lesser extent, drug abuse, as well as the emotional problems brought on by the lack of job opportunities and "societal neglect."

"And those of us in the health profession, who've been luckier, who are in the top 10 per cent economically, because we have the necessary skills to interface with these individuals have to realize that their treatment is going to require our consummate skills, our understanding and a nonjudgmental approach," he said.

Crutcher, who first came to the attention of the Carter administrator when a Catholic bishop who happened to hear Crutcher address a group of chaplains provided Cleland with a taped copy of Crutcher's stirring talk on the respective roles of medicine and religion in preserving "a patient's dignity," admitted that he "agonized" before accepting the appointment.

"It's hard to leave after almost 30 years in Atlanta, 26 of them at one hospital," said the Florida native who interned at Grady Memorial Hospital in 1949 and two decades later was named the best clinical professor by his enthusiastic students at the Emory School of Medicine.

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

Re: Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act

I am enclosing a letter from President Ford which endorses the passage of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act, which is coming to a vote next week in the House of Representatives.

My staff is working with Frank Moore and Gerald Rafshoon to draft a statement which you could issue in support of the bill shortly before the vote. We will also explore whether President Ford would permit the use of his name in your statement.

GERALD R. FORD

August 5, 1978

Dear Ed:

Your recent letter concerning H.R. 7308 and related legislation has been received.

My Administration did support H.R. 12750 and S. 3197 in the previous Congress. This proposed legislation was agreed to by Attorney General Levi and endorsed by me as President.

It is my understanding that S. 1566, which has been passed by the Senate, is similar in most respects to H.R. 12750 and S. 3197 of the previous Congress. It is my further understanding that H.R. 7308 in the current Congress likewise is similar to the aforementioned bills endorsed by my Administration.

I have not personally analyzed the bill passed by the Senate, S. 1566, or the House proposed version as amended, H.R. 7308, but I have discussed both with those who are knowledgeable on the subject and familiar with the details. On the basis of this information, I do endorse the enactment of legislation that has the thrust of what my Administration endorsed. It would appear that S. 1566 and H.R. 7308 would insure the preservation of a strong executive position in the critical area and this is essential in my judgment.

MEMORANDUM TO THE PRESIDENT

FROM: Frank Press FP

SUBJECT: Plomado de Oro

A delegation of engineers from Latin America flew here especially to award you the highest meritorious decoration of the Pan American Federation of Engineering Societies -- The Golden Plum Bob. I accepted the award on your behalf at a ceremony in the Roosevelt Room on Saturday, September 9. The award and citation are enclosed.

It is noteworthy that this Federation of one million engineers chose to honor you for your "actions in defense of human rights." In accepting, I spoke of your efforts in support of science and technology as tools to improve the quality of life for people everywhere -- exemplified by the new Foundation for International Technological Cooperation which you recently approved.

NEWS COMMITTEE

FROM THE

THE AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE Institute of Human Relations, 165 E. 56 St., New York, N.Y. 10022, (212) 751-4000

The American Jewish Committee, founded in 1906, is the pioneer human-relations agency in the United States. It protects the civil and religious rights of Jews here and abroad, and advances the cause of improved human relations for all people.

MORTON YARMON, Director of Public Relations

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEW YORK, Sept. 1....The American Jewish Committee today urged the United States Congress to pass the natural gas bill, now pending.

In a statement issued over the joint signatures of Richard Maass, AJC National President, and Harris L. Kempner, Jr., Chairman of AJC's National Committee on Energy, the Committee declared that "the bill is a reasonable, if not perfect, compromise," and added that "its passage will at long last demonstrate to the American people and to the international community that the United States government is prepared to take some of the difficult steps necessary to develop a coherent national energy program."

The full text of the statement follows:

"The American Jewish Committee urges passage of the natural gas bill now pending in Congress. We are aware of the complexity of the bill and that there will be some problems in administering it, but we feel that the bill's passage is essential for the enactment of a total energy package that will reduce U.S. dependence on foreign energy supplies. Its passage will at long last demonstrate to the American people and to the international community that the United States government is prepared to take some of the difficult steps necessary to develop a coherent national energy program.

"The bill is a reasonable, if not perfect, compromise and we believe it succeeds in marrying the conflicting demands of industry and the consumer. We further believe that it will help to increase supplies of gas, increase conservation, and end the divisive differences in pricing between intra- and inter- state gas.

"The compromise, having been hammered out after long and arduous consultations, deserves the full support of Congress."
